

Venue: School of Nuclear and Allied Science (SNAS), Accra, Ghana

Date: October 20 - 24, 2025

Short Course

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY MANAGEMENT

The Occupational Health and Safety Management course is designed to equip participants with fundamental principles and practical tools to identify, manage, and prevent workplace hazards. Participants will build critical competencies to foster safe, healthy, and productive work environments.

TARGET AUDIENCE

- ➤ Health and Safety Professionals
- Supervisors and Project Managers
- ▶ HR and Administrative Personnel
- ➤ Safety Responsibility Employees
- ➤ Contractors and Site Workers
- ➤ Researchers and Students

EXPERT FACILITATION

To be delivered by Expert Professionals and Practitioners

Course Structure

This course will comprise 10 modules to take participants on a journey of undrstanding OHSM. The course modules are as follows:

Module 1: Introduction to Occupational Health and Safety

Module 2: Hazard Identification, Risk Assessment & Controls

Module 3: Occupational Safety Regulations and Compliance

Module 4: Vehicle and Plant Movement Safety

Module 5: Community Health and Safety

Module 6: Emergency Response Planning

Module 7: Hazard Communication

Module 8: Health and Safety Leadership

Module 9: Workers' Grievance Redress Mechanism

Module 10: Workplace Safety Management Systems

The course adopts a blended learning approach that combines theoretical knowledge with hands-on practice to ensure a well-rounded understanding of Occupational Health Safety Management (OHSM).

NOTE

Participants are responsible for their own travel (including, flights visa and local transport)

Minimum Entry Requirements

- Enrolled in or have completed a Diploma, Bachelor's degree or higher in relevant field of study
- Practitioners working in Occupational Health and Safety Management
- Researchers or Academics with Master's, PhD or Post-doctoral level with demonstrated interest in practical applications

Tel: (+233) 242 102 783 (+233) 501 632 922